

PU China 2010 preview: Era Polymers

Under the motto “Excellence in polyurethane chemistry”, the Australian company Era Polymers will present its portfolio of PU prepolymers for the cast elastomer industry of which it makes over 700 grades.

The company offers a full range of prepolymer systems with different hardnesses and chemical composition for a variety of applications, such as spray polyurethanes and polyureas, rigid and flexible foam systems, rubber binders, and timber floor coatings.

New additions to this range are three-component MDI polyether and polyester systems. Compared to traditional two-component systems that offer a specific hardness, these quasi systems are more flexible as varying hardnesses can be achieved.
