

Styron and Sumitomo to rename polycarbonate JV

The 50:50 joint venture between Styron and Sumitomo Chemical is being renamed Sumika Styron Polycarbonate Limited (SSPC).

The name change is expected to be fully effective as of 1 April 2011. In October 2010 Styron assumed ownership of the 50 % share that was formerly owned by Dow Chemical. The JV remains headquartered in Tokyo and will continue to serve the Asian Pacific markets.

Adresse:

<http://www.gupta-verlag.com/allgemein/nachrichten/wirtschaft/9410/styron-and-sumitomo-to-rename-polycarbonate-jv>