PU China 2010 preview: Laader Berg

Laader Berg, the inventor of Maxfoam, and producer of PU slabstock foaming machines is celebrating its 50 years anniversary in 2010, and is by that carrying a long tradition of skills and know-how in the PU foaming industry. The company continues to invest in new technology for foaming machinery having delivered 400 machines to customers in 80 countries. With more than 40 % growth in order income, the company reported a record turnover for 2009.

To support customers and strengthen its position in South-East Asia, Laader Berg is now represented in the region by TechnoHub Asia Machinery, located in Singapore. TechnoHub has local representatives in China, Vietnam, Thailand, South Korea, Indonesia, Malaysia, Taiwan, and the Philippines. Laader Berg and TechnoHub Asia Machinery will be present together at PU China 2010.
