

Voronezhsintezkauchuk to expand TPE production

Russian Voronezhsintezkauchuk has announced plans to massively expand its TPE production.

The company currently produces 35,000 tonnes, and said in announcement issued in January that it wants to increase production up to 85,000 tonnes. The new production is expected to come into operation in 2012.

Voronezhsintezkauchuk is a subsidiary of Sibur Holding.
